HOAGLAND'S
NEW PATENT SHAFT COUPLING!
W. E. COOPER

HAS PURCHASED THE RIGHT FOR THIS County of the above Patent, and will hereafter use it in the construction of all the Vehicles manufactured at his extensive

Carriage Factory,
Corner of Second and Morrison Streets.

He respectfully refers to the following

CARD.

Having examined the New Patent Shaft Coupling, invented by H. R. Hoagland, we feel pleasure in informing the public that in our opinion it is the safest and best method of connecting shafts or tongues to all vehicles that has ever been used.

It fastens without bolt or screw, and is therefore, easily and speedily separated. It rests on Gutta Percha so as to be entirely free from the rattling sound which so often disturbs restless horses. It is easily changed so that the shafts or tongue may be detached in an instant, and is convenient, safe and secure.

It is easy to change to this style of coupling any buggy or other vehicle now in use, and with small expense. We have come to the conclusion to use this new invention ourselves and recommend its use in all cases. We consider it far superior to the Brewster Patent, heretofore considered the best in use.

CAUTION.—OWING TO THE MANY IMITATIONS of this article, persons should be very cautious and purchase none but that branded "Standard Soap Company, of San Francisco," on packages and boxes. It saves time and labor, and does not injure the finest fabric. Sold by all Grocers. Try Standard Soap Co.'s Detersive Soap. ap21d3m

POWDER AND SHOT for sale by
H. W. CORBETT & CO.

Decline of the Cape Trade.

[From the New York Shipping and Commercial List.]

The trade between our Atlantic ports and California, via Cape Horn, which has experienced many vicissitudes since its inception, betrays indications of permanent decay. For a number of years subsequent to the gold discovery on the Pacific coast, it was one of the most profitable fields for the employment of American ships, and was mainly instrumental in calling into existence that famous fleet of clippers which flourished during the period from 1850 to 1860, and of which not more than half a dozen, perhaps, remain.

In looking over our old files, we find that the greatest activity, apparently, was in the years 1852-53, the number of vessels on the berth at the beginning of 1863 being thirty-three. After freight began to find its way, in considerable quantities, via the Isthmus, the Cape trade began to fall off, though it was not until after the establishment of communication by rail across the continent, last year, that it reached a depth of depression, from which there is little probability of any substantial reaction. For several months past, the rates of freight have ruled so extremely low as to barely cover port charges; yet, owing to the depression of all branches of the carrying trade, it had not been difficult for the lines to procure ship loads on commission, for the reason that San Francisco is about the only distant port, in which the larger class of vessels have been reasonably certain of obtaining fairly remunerative outward employment. Latterly, however, both the outward and homeward business has been so poor that owners are reluctant to accept California business, and, as a consequence, the amount of tonnage on the berth is reduced to a much smaller compass than usual. One of the old lines has just retired from the field altogether; and the present prospect is that some one of the four remaining lines will withdraw before the close of the year, as there is not sufficient business, at present, to afford despatch for more than two or three ships a month. Those great annihilators of time and space—steam and the electric telegraph—are mainly responsible for the great changes that have been wrought in the California trade within a few years, and these changes, it is altogether probable, are only the prelude to others of still more importance in the not distant future. Already the overland railroad is carrying freight at lower rates than were formerly charged by the water routes, and it is reasonable to suppose that, when it shall be fully equipped and in thorough working order, further modifications will be made, thus securing a system of transportation between the Atlantic and Pacific seaboards, which shall unite such cheapness with speed and punctuality, as will preserve healthful relations between supply and demand, and so obviate the freightage of any but the cheapest and most bulky commodities via Cape Horn.

A WOMAN BURNED TO DEATH BY THE EXPLOSION OF GAS IN A COOK STOVE.—About 8:30 o'clock this morning an alarm of fire was sounded from Box 46, and the Fire Department went to the corner of Lyell and State streets, where the box is located, to learn that their services were not needed—there was no fire. The alarm was occasioned by an explosion of coal gas from a cook stove in the house of Robert Stewart, located in Cliff street, near the river bank. Mrs. Stewart had made a fire of Morris Run (bituminous) coal, and while about her domestic duties, it is supposed, accidentally spilled some water on the fire, when an explosion occurred which forced the stove doors open, threw off the griddles, blackened water was thrown over the ceilings, and the stove was glazed all over the front with the sulphurous gas. Mrs. Stewart was in a stooping position in front of the stove, with her babe by her side. She received the full force of the explosion in her face and breast, and she also inhaled the scorching, deadly gas. Her clothes took fire about her waist, and her flesh was scorched and crisped shockingly. Her body presented a blackened, parboiled mass of flesh, and one looking upon it would not recognize one feature of humanity about it.

Mrs. Stewart uttered a piercing shriek and threw herself from a window in the room, and rolled in agony on the ground until assistance arrived, when she was removed to a neighboring house and Dr. Lakeman called, who pronounced her fatally injured. When our reporter saw her she was conscious, but evidently had but a short time to live. A little boy who heard the explosion rushed into the house and brought the babe out in safety. Mrs. Stewart presents one of the most horrible cases of death from fire on record in this city.—Rochester (N. Y.) Union, May 24.

THE FALL ELECTIONS.—The fall elections this year are to decide not only the character of the next House of Representatives, but also, to a certain extent, that of the Senate. Twenty Senators will be elected by the next State Legislatures. The Senators whose terms expire on the 4th of March next are: Morrill, of Maine; Cragin, of New Hampshire; Wilson, of Massachusetts; Anthony, of Rhode Island; Cattell, of New Jersey; Willey, of West Virginia; Abbott, of North Carolina; Robertson of South Carolina; Fowler, of Tennessee; Grimes, of Iowa; Howard of Michigan; Thayer, of nebraska; Ross, of Kansas; Yates, of Illinois; McDonald, of Arkansas; Revels, of Mississippi; Williams, of Oregon; Harris, of Louisiana; Warner, of Alabama. Saulsbury, of Delaware; McCreery, of Kentucky, and Norton, of Minnesota. The outgoing Senators all are Republicans, except Saulsbury, McCreery and Norton. The seat of Mr. Fowler has already been filled by a Democrat, and that of Mr. Grimes by a Republican. The Democrats will probably lose one Senator in Minnesota.

COMPLIMENTARY.—The following is a copy of a complimentary letter to our fellow-townsman, J. F. Caples, Esq., which was forwarded to us for publication by the Committee, whose names are thereto appended:

THE DALLES, Oregon, June, 4, 1870.

Dear Sir: We would most respectfully, for ourselves and in behalf of the Republican party of Wasco county and of the State of Oregon, hereby tender you our most sincere and unfeigned thanks for the most excellent and able speech addressed to the citizens of our county this evening by you, upon the political issues of the day, and especially for the effective manner in which you so clearly and successfully presented the principles of liberty, justice and honor, so gloriously advocated and maintained by the great Republican party of the nation, of which we have the honor to be humble members, and, in part, to represent.

Wishing you every success, and a safe and happy return home, we remain yours, most truly, &c.

J. G. WILSON,
G. W. WALDRON,
B. A. HOGUE.

The newspaper reporters, if they do not play a very conspicuous part in the wars of modern times, certainly have a happy knack of making themselves historical figures in the drama. When we were in doubt if the Fenian war had really terminated, we were assured of the final fact by the clinching statement that the newspaper reporters were returning from the front. Of course there was no more war on the border if the reporters had given it up. And now, as an illustration of the thoroughness with which our Government is laying about itself with its official club in every possible direction, we are told that several New York newspaper reporters have been arrested as Fenians and sent to prison. This may be a little unpleasant to the reporters, but it forcible testimony to the vigilance of the United States Government, to say nothing of the persuasive qualities of the newspaper men. They can say that they have seen the entire performance, and have suffered for the sake of the profession, if not for the holy cause of Fenianism.

Ex Governor Wells and Judge Meredith have so far recovered from their injuries from the Richmond disaster as to be able to go out.

A Senatorial Night Session.

The New York Tribune has the following graphic account of the night session of the United States Senate on the bill to enforce the Fifteenth Amendment:

WASHINGTON, May 22, 1870.

On last Monday the Senate took up the Fifteenth Amendment bill, reported by Mr Stewart from the Committee on the Judiciary. Early in the afternoon of that day Mr. Stewart stated that he should ask the Senate not to adjourn until the bill was finally disposed of. It was soon found that this course was utterly impossible. The bill covered such a variety of subjects, was so susceptible to criticism, and the debate took such a wide range, that Mr. Stewart was compelled to yield, and so it went on, day by day, until at 5 o'clock on Friday afternoon the end seemed no nearer than on Monday. Mr. Morrill, of Maine, was becoming very impatient, and declared he would give way no longer, and the Appropriation bills must be proceeded with on Monday (to-morrow). It was then determined to sit it out, unless the minority would agree to some arrangement to take the vote on Saturday. The Senate accordingly reassembled at 7:38 o'clock, and had no further amendments been offered, it is probable that the bill would have then been perfected, and Senators enabled to go home at a respectable hour. But there was no such good luck in store, either for the Senators or the weary reporters. Amendment after amendment was made until a great bundle lay upon the Clerk's table. The Vice President, seeing how things were going, and probably thinking his new home duties required his attendance, put a substitute in the chair and departed. Just before midnight, Mr. Stewart made a proposition to adjourn, with the understanding that the final vote be taken at 3 o'clock on Saturday. Every one apparently agreed to this, and there was a great rush for hats and canes when Mr. Casserly put in an objection. Shortly after he withdrew the objection, but Senator Stewart had in the meantime got his ire aroused, and curtly declined to renew his offer. All then saw there was to be a night of it, and made their arrangements accordingly. Messrs. Turmbull, Cameron, and several others, who live within a stone's throw of the Capitol, and who could be easily summoned if their votes were necessary went home to bed. The tactics determined upon by the majority were to preserve a "golden silence," and vote, and, leaving enough for watch and ward, the rest snugly ensconced themselves in the sofas, or went into the retiring rooms to chat and smoke. Thus, that small band of Democrats, under the lead of Thurman, girded up their loins for the contest. Their leader did wonders. Always full of dash, and quick at repartee, he fairly excelled himself. Not once through the vigils of that night did his eye-lids droop, but, on his feet almost constantly, he fought, inch by inch, the multifarious propositions of the bill, and so forcible and ingenious were his arguments, that more than once the friends of the bill were compelled to forget their resolution and answer him. And so the hours wore on, the galleries deserted, except by a few of those houseless wanderers to whom all night sessions is a grateful god-send, and who were enjoying the unwonted luxury of a nap on cushioned benches. On the floor the scene was worthy of a painter. Eight Democrats sat there stiff in their seats, glaring with lynx eyes, the venerable Messrs. Davis and Vickers, with the weight of seventy winters pressing upon their fragile forms, as wide awake as any. Opposite to them sat perhaps as many Republicans, watching and being watched, while on every sofa lay the prostrate figure of some dignified and slumbering Senator. From out the retiring-rooms came great clouds of tobacco smoke, the chink of glasses, and loud conversation, which sometimes drowned the strains of Democratic eloquence. It could not be said that those grim warriors "filibustered" or that they fought like guerrillas, but rather as a well-trained band of regulars, and under the lead of the great parliamentarian, Thurman, it must be confessed that they fought well. Seizing every opportunity of attack that was presented, and aiming at every unguarded point, the representatives of the majority were constantly obliged to send for their reserves. It was, no doubt, rather irritating to those who were taking it so easy in the retiring room, listening to one of Mr. Nye's refined stories, to be called off just as the point was coming in; and it certainly seemed anything but pleasant to those who were settling themselves for a good nap, to be constantly roused up to vote. Sometimes it required two or three to call a sleeper from his dreams, and more than one ludicrous incident occurred. Once Mr. Revels, when not entirely awake, created considerable amusement (in which he himself joined) by answering first "aye" and then "nay" for several times, before he ascertained the right side of the question. At four o'clock, when the morning began to dawn, Mr. Sumner, who always votes against evening sessions, but unlike some others, never fails to be at his post when one is held, unbent so much from his characteristic dignity as to stretch his legs on a sofa, but he took good care that the drowsy god should not woo him, and continued, as he had been during the night, Mr. Stewart's most efficient ally in checkmating the moves of the Democrats. At this time a speech, extraordinary in every way, was made by Mr. Hamilton, of Texas His bitter denunciations of the entire Southern people were pleasantly diversified, and the effect somewhat heightened by echoes of approval from the two Michigan Senators and Mr. Nye, and when he sat down Mr. Chandler went over to his seat and gave him a regular "bear hug," telling him that he was a "man after his own heart," and intimating that, if his statements are borne out by the facts, it was a great pity that Congress had not kept all of those States under military government. From four o'clock to seven, the Democrats had all the talking to themselves, no reply being vouchsafed to any of their arguments, except some of the Republicans, under the lead of Mr. Chandler, calling out "Question, question." The Senate bill was finally adopted, and most of the amendments that were offered tacked on to it, and it was then passed at seven o'clock, the session having lasted (with the recess of two hours) nineteen hours. The debate will occupy several pages of The Globe.

Singular Claim of a Maryland Maiden

Miss Carroll, a maiden lady of much intelligence, from Maryland, appeared before the House Military Committee Thursday, and presented and urged a claim for an appropriation by Congress to pay for her valuable service to the Government in planning the Tennessee River campaign. The Committee did not hear her through, but referred her case to one of the members, to whom she will urge her claims and present her testimony. Gen. Logan, Chairman of the Committee, states that President Lincoln planned the campaign, and that he showed to him (Logan) long before the beginning of the campaign, as it was subsequently conducted, with the roads, streams, bridges and everything marked out. These maps and plans were sent by Mr. Lincoln to the Commanding General, under whose direction the campaign was fought.

Virginia claims that the General Government owed her on the 31st of December, 1832, on account of the war of 1812, $453,738, and that the interest has now increased the sum due to over $1,500,000 The Richmond Dispatch says that if this claim can be made good Virginia can build a new Capitol and have enough left for a good foundation for an educational fund.

This may be reduced on a closer count but we present the figures as they appear from information now at hand. If the Republican majority on this side of the mountains should come down to 500 or less we regard the result as uncertain.

J Gaston President

This individual has published an editorial letter in the Herald in regard to west side railroad matters in which he undertakes to controvert certain statements made by us relative to the same. Since he has got back into Oregon and fallen into the hands of the Ladd Pengra ring he has been doing what he can in their interest and in favor of the Democratic party and this letter which he publishes is only one of the several efforts made by him in that behalf at their dictation. The statement made by us which he undertakes to controvert is as follows

The men who were at Washington last winter as representatives of the west side company knew and admitted that no grant could be had to extend to the head of the Wallamet valley on the west side. They therefore drew up the bill for the Portland, Astoria and McMinnville grant. It was conceded by all that this grant was a valuable one and that in case it were secured the strife between the east side and west side would cease. Had it been practicable that grant, at the time the bill for it was first introduced would have been extended to the head of the valley. But it was not and the real situation was accepted by the representatives of the west side enterprise * * * They who had this done admitted that no grant extending up the valley on the west side, and conflicting as it necessarily would with the grant already possessed by the other company would be of any use or value.

"No one," says Mr Gaston in reply to the above "knows better than yourself that the statement you have made above and so often repeated, is wholly untrue." We say that the statement is strictly true and can be substantiated by all the Oregonians who were at Washington last winter. We have submitted the statement to Hon D P Thompson who was at Washington and knows all the facts and he confirms it in every particular. Judge Olney we are satisfied will do the same thing, when he reaches home. Judge Olney was very particular in seeing that the McMinnville bill should not be drawn up in such a way as to conflict with the grant already made.

While at Washington last winter we frequently met Mr Gaston and one day in Senator Williams committee room had a full and frank conversation with him about this matter. In order that we might not misunderstand his position we took down in a note book the following statement, as nearly as possible in his very words

"The only conditions on which a land grant and aid for the west side road can be attained are these. First, a grant in such a form as would not lie parallel with one already made. Second such a grant as would enable the company to raise money by giving it credit among railroad men at the East. A grant on the west side parallel with Holladay's road would be no basis for such credit."

This was Mr Gaston's position last winter and in this view of the situation the McMinnville bill was drawn up. He said repeatedly that it would be hopeless to attempt to sell bonds based on a west side grant to the head of the valley for the reason that the grant already obtained by the other road covered all the available lands and railroad men would not accept a proposition to build a road on an empty grant when that road throughout its whole length, would lie within the limits of a land grant which another road had already obtained.

But Mr Gaston who we now know has all the time been a secret enemy of Senator Williams and who would now go to the length of defeating the Republican party to make sure of defeating him endeavors to put a new face on west side railroad matters by charging that Williams defeated the plan for a land grant on the west side to the head of the valley though all Oregon men who were at Washington last winter know that Gaston admitted that such a grant would be impracticable and valueless. This can be confirmed by Messrs Thompson Dowell and others, who are well acquainted with all the facts. Gaston is a falsifier and the truth is not in him.

Mr Gaston says that last winter at Washington we "shared, or pretended to share, in the general indignation among Oregonians that the west side grant was not allowed to go to the head of the valley and wanted to know what right Holladay had to control all the railroads of Oregon." There was no general indignation among Oregonians as alleged. All who were there took the same view of the subject that was taken by Gaston himself. As for Holladay's "controlling all the roads of Oregon" it is perfectly evident that he will control them unless some other man than Gaston, with his oats and flour obtained by contributions from farmers, can be pitted against him.

But the alleged "floating grant" is what now disturbs Mr Gaston. For that he swears vengeance against Senator Williams. That grant (which, however has not yet been made) contemplates an extension to supply the deficiency in the grant confirmed to the east side by the late Legislature. Similar extensions have frequently been made in the case of other roads and no doubt the McMinnville grant will be so extended as to supply deficiencies. While at Washington Mr Gaston appears to have made no objection to this bill. It was introduced more than two weeks before he wrote the letter we published containing a laudatory paragraph relative to the action of Senator Williams in supporting west side interests. Mr Gaston gave him praise then but since he has reached Oregon the case is changed.

We cannot take up too much space with Gaston now. From time to time we shall ventilate him and shall show that among his other dirty and treacherous acts he was visiting Senator Williams' rooms at Washington and professing friendship for him to get him to do the work he wanted in Congress while at the same time he was indefatigable in writing letters to Oregon against him using his Williams stationery for that purpose and sending those same abusive letters here under William's frank. So much to-day for J Gaston President.

The city of Portland does not endorse repudiation. Such was the verdict of yesterday. Does the repudiation organ understand it?

Jackson County

Jacksonville June 6.—Returns are coming in very slowly and it is difficult to say what the result will be in this county. The count between Martin Conservative and Fay Democratic candidates for State Senator is very close as far as heard from. The contest for Sheriff Clerk and County Judge is also very close and both parties are sanguine of carrying the Legislative ticket. Although the contest was exceedingly warm the day passed off without any disturbance. The Sheriff having appointed a number of special deputies. It will be impossible to tell the results on the Legislative ticket for several days but everything indicates that there will be considerable falling off in the usual Democratic majority on the State ticket and especially for member of Congress

How About that 400 Majority!

Yesterday morning we claimed 400 majority in Multnomah. The Herald issued at a later hour said "Not by a big sight" and pretended to think we did not expect to carry the county at all! We invite our now disconsolate neighbor to a contemplation of the figures—430! Handsome figures as we see them.

The organ of the Ladd Military Road Ring yesterday morning ridiculed our claim that Multnomah county would give four hundred Republican majority. It would have given more than that majority had it not been for the obstinacy of Mr Boyd County Commissioner in refusing to make precincts enough to allow the people to vote. Large numbers were unable to vote at all.

The result of the election in this county is a notice to old fogies to go to the rear. Live men are now to take the lead. The old ring that used to control Oregon can have its own way no longer. The railroad era has come and they have missed the train. And now standing carpet bag in hand, they look as foolish as possible.

The disparity in the majorities on the State and county tickets in this county is attributable mainly to the fact that many Republicans left their own precincts where the polls were crowded all day and went into other precincts to vote where they could only vote the State ticket.

The routed Democracy in this county are very mad. They are enraged to find that Republicans did not stand back and allow Democrats to carry it by intimidation as they did two years ago. They will have time to recover their temper, it is hoped before another election.

[illegible] Men.—The Butte Record tenders the following good advice to young men: Cole and Gorham, the former a Senator in Congress and the latter Secretary of the Senate, were, a [illegible] two promising young men in this State with decided evidences of talent in their respective [illegible] the one a lawyer and the other [illegible] In an evil hour they entered the political arena accepted office, and have fallen. The party bringing them down to official position now refers to them as "Two Dead Ducks" and they are drowned and sunk in the filthy pool. But for politics they might have acquired good characters and been esteemed in the community as honest men and good citizens. It is better to be a tanner than a politician.

Costly Railroad.—The most costly piece of railroad in the United States if not in the world is in the outskirts of Philadelphia and was built by the Pennsylvania Central and Camden and Amboy Railroad Companies several months ago. It is only three miles in length and yet cost three million dollars. The costliness of the road was owing chiefly to the fact that it runs through so much property in the city and the companies were obliged to purchase from private parties, not only much valuable real estate but numerous costly buildings which were pulled down to make a path for the remorseless iron horse. But the two companies needing the connecting link were determined to have it at whatever cost. Such is modern railroad enterprise.

CITY.

THE QUESTION OF COLOR.—The question of mixing children of different colors in the public schools is agitating the people of New Orleans as much as that of "mixed clinics" has the ... in Philadelphia. The New Orleans Times has recently devoted a long editorial to the everlasting subject of color. It admits now that the children of colored people should be educated. Thanks to the lessons of the war, thus much progress has been made there. But, urges the Times, by no means let them count on their spelling-books under the same roof with white children, to be instructed and feruled by the same pedagogue. Or, to quote its language: "We are in favor of civilization, not amalgamation. The attempt to force men into heterogeneous connections is an error. Difference of color does not abridge the attributes of humanity on either side, but it is significant of certain separation between the races which has the authority of law, because it bears the impress of the fingers of the Deity upon it. Why this constitutional difference of color? Why ... races? Climate does not account for it. The ancestors of white men were never black men." This exhausts the question. Philosophy and anthropology can shed no further light upon it. For children of different colors to attend the same school is amalgamation, and amalgamation is the great evil against which slaveholders and the South have always sternly set their faces, for "when the ancestors of white men were never black men," and conversely, of course, the ancestors of black men never could have been white men. But then what color was Adam?

Skiff, one of the leading dental surgeons of this coast, who has for several years practiced his profession at Salem, returned by the Moses Taylor yesterday, from an ... trip to the Atlantic States. He will resume practice at his office in the Capital city, where he will be received by his numerous friends. Mr. Jacob Kamm, one of the leading and wealthy citizens of this city, also returned to his home by the Moses Taylor from a tour of the States with his family.

THE SHOW TO COME.—J. W. Adams, traveling agent of the Museum of living wonders, came ... by the Moses Taylor, to make arrangements for the exhibition in this city of the great Nova Scotia Giantess, the French Giant, the beautiful Circassian girl, and the dwarf, Major ... These living wonders will come by next steamer, and show about June 20th.

SHOWS THE WHITE FEATHER.—The Radicals under the lead of Ben Holliday have thrown out ... this flag, indicating that they expect defeat. The success of the Democratic ticket is placed beyond the shadow of a doubt.

The above is from the Herald of yesterday ... is unnecessary.

THE ELECTION.—Notwithstanding very much had been said for several days previous to election day concerning the probabilities of a ... muss, the canvass yesterday was conducted in a spirit of harmony and quiet. Only ... was occasioned all day long, and that amounted to nothing.

ARRIVED.—The steamship Moses Taylor reached her berth in this city at 5 o'clock yesterday morning, with passengers as telegraphed at the time of her departure on Thursday last from San Francisco.

FESTIVAL.—Attend the Festival to-night at the Baptist church if you like Strawberries and Ice Cream. Their sociables are always pleasant.

APRON FAIR.—The ladies of the Unitarian Church will give an Apron Fair and Strawberry Festival on the evening of the 15th.

AN OUTRAGE.—Republicans shall expect to receive any amount of abuse from Democrats because of the defeat of the latter at the polls yesterday, and no doubt very many outrageous things will be trumped up, in explanation of the reasons why they were so badly defeated, but we defy any Democrat to produce a thing half so mean or outrageous as that perpetrated by the Commissioners of this county when they put three-fourths of the voters of this city into one precinct, and the remaining one-fourth into two other precincts. Those gentlemen received the anathemas of all good citizens for their cussed meanness in this thing, and we rest the verdict of condemnation to the people should either of them ever again come up for office in Multnomah county. Men were kept standing under the broiling sun for five hours, awaiting their turn to vote, and the polls were then closed in this immense precinct before some of those same men could reach the polling place. It was a most infamous scheme of Boyd & Co. to carry this election—but have they done it? Look at the returns for an answer.

SERENADE.—The "boys" turned out to celebrate the victory last night, headed by the 23d Infantry Band, and proceeded to serenade the successful candidates. The procession halted at the residence of Ben Holladay, Esq., and after music by the band, and cheers for Mr. Holladay, the party, the result, etc., were addressed by Mr. Holladay, who, in the course of his remarks, assured the crowd that as they had stood by him in this contest so should he stand by them now; that he was opposed to the employment of Chinese laborers on his works, and would give all the preferences to whitemen. He took occasion to denounce every statement of the Herald upon this matter as unmitigated falsehoods.

CURRENT NOTES.

The Republicans of Nebraska are to hold their State Convention in Lincoln on the 10th day of August.

The registration has been completed in Richmond, Va., and shows that the whites have a majority of 648, there being 6,868 whites and 6,220 blacks. The city election is to be held on Thursday next.

John Neal says Gov. Chamberlain is a man for the nation to be proud of, a scholar, a gentleman, a soldier and a statesman, and that Maine needs him for two posts of duty—for Governor and, still more perhaps, for United States Senator.

Among the passengers of a steamer which arrived at Boston recently from Europe were a family consisting of the father, aged forty four, his wife, aged thirty nine, and ten children, including three pairs of twins, aged respectfully five, three and two years.

One of the Illinois papers denounce the late Constitutional Convention for issuing an address to the people explaining and commending the the new Constitution, and speaks of its "absurd assumption in not only giving the text, but preaching the sermon and making the application."

The new Constitution of Illinois provides that "every person" who obtained a certificate of naturalization before Jan. 1, 1870, shall be entitled to vote, and as the Naturalization laws admit of the naturalization of women, there are those who contend that such women can vote under this clause.

While regretting that the Chicora was prohibited from passing through the Sault Ste. Marie Canal, the Ottowa News protests against the adoption of retaliatory measures, as calculated to do much injury in the end. It also adds: "We should remember the interests of the Imperial Government as well as our own, and Great Britain has already enough unsettled disputes with America without our rushing her in hot haste into new ones."

The St. Joseph (Mo.) Herald is apparently not very well satisfied with the present Governor of that State. Understanding that he is making some efforts for a renomination, it remarks that "although he is acknowledged to be the best, greatest and most brilliant Governor Missouri ever had or ever can have, yet almost all of the people in its part of the State have made up their minds to submit to the sorrow of attempting to get along without his valuable services after this year."

When the bill to enforce the Fourteenth and Fifteenth Amendments to the Constitution was before the Senate, there was some confusion on account of the fact that sundry amendments, as well as what amounted to a substitute, were under consideration. In the jangle which ensued, a clause of the sixteenth section escaped the notice of Senator Casserly, reading as follows: "No tax nor charge shall be imposed or enforced by any State upon any person emigrating thereto from a foreign country which is not equally imposed and enforced upon every person emigrating to such State from any other foreign country, and any law of any State in conflict with this provision is hereby declared null and void." A day or two after, Senator Casserly, mindful of the attempts of his Democratic constituents in California at hostile legislation against the Chinese, asked that the journal be corrected, so as to keep out that particular section. He said he had nothing to reproach himself with in permitting this clause to slip into the bill without lifting up his voice against it; for, as far as human vigilance or endurance could go, he had followed up the bill from its introduction to its passage. Of course Mr. Casserly's aim was only to set himself right before his constituents, an undertaking in which we lend him cheerful assistance; he would have defeated the clause above quoted, if he could. Fortunately, it was not in the power of the Senator to hinder the enactment of a law which prevents such odious class legislation as his friends in this State seek to impose upon us. The Senate refused to recall its action on the bill, and made itself merry over Senator Thurman's statement, that he thought there were two bills before the Senate during the famous night session when each side was trying to tire out the other. Senator Corbett sent to the Secretary's desk and had read the following bit of rhyme, a souvenir that has come down to us from the noted Long Parliament.

"Said Charlie to Dicken, "By all that is blue,
I can't see the Speaker, say, Dicken, can you?"
"See the Speaker!" said Dick, "why I swear it is true,
I do see the Speaker, yes, by Jove, I see two."

The steamers launch, rubber rafts and the entire cargo of arms and ammunition and medicines was captured, with the correspondence. Cisnero who commanded the expedition, had sailed on the Upton for Columbia to bring back an expedition of two hundred Columbians. From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 6.—The steamer Ajax has just arrived with mails and passengers.

The members of the Boston party distributed themselves among the various Churches yesterday. They did not, however, attend the theater in the evening.

Alf. Dudley, his two sons, and Edward Ingham, who repeated the Pigeon Hill battle at Montgomery street and Cosmopolitan hotel saloon, a few evenings since, were up in the police court this morning. The defendants asked a continuance of the case one week, the Prosecuting Attorney resisting the motion. He apparently feared if an examination were had at once parties might get together again in some thickly populated part of the city and resume target practice. The court finally continued the case till next Wednesday. Defendant's counsel said it would take three days to examine the case. If they are not more skillful than their clients it will take a week.

The annual re-election of officers of the Industrial School takes place this evening.

The election of officers of the Mechanics' Institute and Industrial School is going on this evening.

There is but little excitement about the subsidy election, which takes place to-morrow. The negroes will vote here for the first time.

Three so-called laborers and tax-payers meetings, to take action on the proposed subsidy to the Southern Pacific railroad were held last night. The one held at Platt's Hall was presided over by Mooney and adopted resolutions denouncing the railroad company and all connected with it, stating that it is a notorious fact that the stock holders of the Southern Pacific railroad company are in favor of the employment of Chinese labor in the building of said road, to the exclusion and detriment of the white laboring classes; declaring that laborers are opposed to the further importation to our shores of any line of steamships engaged in importation and pledging them to work and vote against the subsidy. That at Dashaway Hall under Goodman's auspices, declared in favor of the subsidy and agreed to vote for it. And that at the corner of Howard and Third street, in the street, called by those in favor of the subsidy, was broken up by a mob who upset the platform as Col. Harris was trying to speak. Rev Pete Anderson has been using his influence among the colored people during the week to get them to vote entire for the subsidy.

Prostration Played Out.

Violent purgatives, emetics, salivants, blistering and bleeding have had their day.

The sick can no longer be persuaded that the best way to cure them is to destroy the little strength that disease has left them.

Dyspeptics, instead of dosing themselves with epsom salts, aloes, colocynth, jalap, and other powerful cathartics, tone their digestive organs and regulate their bowels with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.

Persons of bilious habit, instead of throwing the whole glandular system into a state of morbid irritation with mercurial poison, seek relief, and find it in the operation of that wholesome vegetable alterative upon the disordered liver.

Nervous sufferers, tremulous, weak and despondent recruit their shattered energies with a course of the great invigorant, and bless the day when the adulterated liquors of commerce were superseded by a medicated stimulant perfectly efficient and entirely harmless.

Travelers by land and sea rejoice in the possession of an agreeable corrective, which protects them from the evil effects of malaria, from sea sickness, and from the disturbing influences of changes of climate, and changed water.

The weak and debilitated feel their strength return, and their spirits revive under its bracing, appetizing, gently exhilarating action.

It is the only stimulant which cautious physicians can conscientiously recommend to ladies in delicate health, or to the aged and decrepid.

There is not a city, town or settlement on the American continent, where it is not recognized as a household remedy, and a safeguard against epidemics, and in short, wherever there is intelligence, prudence and common sense, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is pronounced a standard specific, for which, in the whole range of pharmacy, there is no substitute or equivalent.

The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

Removal of the Capital.

CALL FOR A NATIONAL CONVENTION AT CINCINNATI.

The undersigned, composing the Executive Committee appointed by the National Convention which assembled at St. Louis on the 20th day of Octorber, A. D. 1869, and acting under the authority conferred upon them for this purpose, hereby call a Convention, to be composed of delegates from all the States and Territories, and from the District of Columbia to assemble at Cincinnati, on the 25th of October next, to consider the question of the removal of the Capital, and to take such action thereupon as shall be deemed wise and proper.

This Convention is to be composed of three delegates from each Congressional district, six from each State at large, three from each Territory, and three from the District of Columbia, to be appointed by the Governors of the States and Territories, respectively, and by the Mayor of the city of Washington.

If for any reason the Governor of any State or Territory shall fail or refuse to appoint delegates, the appointment shall be made by a convention called for that purpose.

The discussions of the proposed removal in Congress, in the press, in the forum, and among the people, directed and stimulated by the deliberations and action of the Convention which met at St. Louis, demonstrated the value of organized action in its behalf; have developed its strength, and exposed the weakness of the opposition, and leave no room to doubt that speedy success will follow vigorous and faithful effort.

To the argument based on the facts that the political power of the nation—its masses of population, the seat of its agricultural, mineral, commercial, mechanical, and manufacturing capacity and wealth, its great railroad centers—are all found in or rapidly tending toward the center; that in that region are to be found and developed the truest type of American character and energy; that there, far from the exposed border, but reaching with equal vigor to every quarter of its wide domain the home of its legislative, executive, and administrative power will be safest in war and strongest in all its influences for good in peace; to all the facts and arguments, political, geographical, territorial, financial, representative, direct and indirect, theoretical and practical, arrayed in favor of removal, only these answers have been attempted, viz: veneration for the memory of Washington, and the estimated expense of the erection of new and suitable public buildings.

The August memory of Washington is not honored by a location no longer worthy the nation he helped to create.

That nation is poor, indeed, which, when a new capital becomes a necessity, cannot provide suitable accommodations for the public servants charged with the duty of making, expounding and enforcing the laws.

The weakness of the response demonstrates the justice of the demand.

It is believed that the Convention thus called will have power, by wise action, so to express the wishes and shape the effort of the majority of the people as to destroy all hope of successful opposition, and to provide without needless delay for the removal to its new and permanent home.

And we invoke the interest and the cooperation of all friends of removal, to the end that this Convention, in numbers and in character, may be not unworthy of the occasion and the interests committed to it.

California and Australian Quartz Yield Compared.

In comparing the average yield of the quartz-rock crushed in Australia with that of California, some very important facts present themselves to our view, and claim our most serious attention. The average yield of Australian quartz-mines does not exceed the minimum yield of our own workable ledges. Ten dollars per ton is the average of all the quartz raised and crushed in that country; but rock yielding less than that here, can not be worked at present. Extensive gold-bearing quartz-leads, which will yield from $3 to $9 per ton, exist in many parts of the State, and in the great auriferous belt of Mariposa, Calaveras, and Nevada, but remain unworked, while we find ledges in Australia profitably worked, yielding only $3 per ton—for example: From 7,453 tons, of 2,240 pounds to the ton, of quartz obtained from a quartz-mine in Ballarat, the yield per ton amounted to $2, and yet a dividend of $10,500 was declared. The total cost of raising the rock from the mine, crushing, extracting gold, wear and tear of machinery, and loss of mercury, was estimated at 1 30 per ton. The St. John del Rey Mine, in Brazil, has been profitably worked since 1730, and continues to give a handsome profit to its owners, with a yield of no more than a quarter of an ounce of gold per ton of 2,240 pounds; and the quartz-mines of Hungary are profitably worked, with a yield of only one-eighth of an ounce. The reason why ledges of such low grades are worked profitably in other countries and remain idle in our own, is evident. California labor is dearer than in any of the other countries, excepting the inhospitable region of Cariboo, British Columbia. Laborers receiving $2 per day in Australia, receive $3 in this State, and all others employed at a corresponding rate. Added to this is the fact that the Australian miners take the precaution to know the exact amount of gold contained in the tailings after crushing; the particularity and minuteness of the details in the various apparatus used for saving the gold, which is much neglected by Californians; and the employment of the cheaper labor of machinery, where practicable, instead of manual labor, as in the case of self-acting aprons for feeding the stamps from the hoppers, which is done by hand in this State. Such we believe to be the true causes of the difference in the minimum quality of the ores crushed in the two countries.—From "Gold and Gold-Mining," in Overland Monthly for June.

A NEW PADDLE WHEEL.—We copy the following from the Vallejo Chronicle of the 19th:

To fashion a paddle wheel so that it shall possess great propulsive power, and yet not retard motion by the usual lift of dead water in revolving, has been a problem in mechanics which has engaged the attention of inventive minds for many years. Many models have been designed for this purpose, which obtained the desired end either by setting the paddles afloat after passing beyond the center or by change of the form of the wheel itself. Hitherto the chief difficulty has lain in making the invention of practical utility, the gearing being complicated and liable to constant derangement. One of this style of wheels we saw in operation at Napa city several years ago. It lifted no water except that which clung to the buckets, and the power gained over the common form of wheel was by actual trial ascertained to be forty per cent. Our attention has been call to a wheel, the property of W. S. Hubbard, of Vallejo, that seems to solve the problem by the addition of a trifle of machinery and in a change in the buckets of the common form of paddle wheel. The bucket revolves on a shaft running lengthwise through its center. To the inner end a cam is attached, which traverse an eccentric attached to the paddle box. This is all the machinery there is, the whole device being very simple and practical. As the wheel revolves, the position of the bucket is constantly changed with regard to the arm of the paddle wheel, but its edge is always perpendicular with the zenith. Of course the bucket strike the water with the vertical broad surface, and continues to retain the face thus exposed during the revolution, lifting no water, but exerting a propelling force through the whole arc of the circle submerged. In nautical parlance, the bucket "feathers itself" with respect to the water, and by a mechanism so simple that disarrangement is impossible. At inconsiderable expense the common paddle wheel can be fitted with this new form of movement, which saves all the power lost by a sea of water at every revolution. A patent has been applied for, and we think the wheel, once practically tested, will effect a revolution in steam propulsion. It is not the wheel a short time since exhibited in San Francisco, but an invention working upon a new principle entirely.

BREVITIES.—The age of reason—that in which you always give one.

Grit is better in the character than between the teeth.

The person who had a finger in the pie was a cook.

The man of iron will has gone into the foundry business.

Never eat a "square meal." You may choke in trying to swallow it.

If silence is wisdom, why isn't laziness ability?

Eating house keepers are accustomed to see people with open countenances.

A prominent lad in this city eats radish regularly at every meal.

The "inner man" is often hinted at in accounts of banquets. Who is he?

Chinese tailors never observe the fitness of things—or at least of patrons.

The man who kept a steady eye to business for several years squints badly.

The man whose belief was staggered is thought to have previously taken something.

Tom Hood says that all bald men are respectable. The roll of respectables in this country must then be gratifyingly large.

Angling doesn't pertain exclusively to fishermen. Politicians, wife hunters, clergymen and many others, high and low, practice it as regularly as cocks crow or duns dun.

How infinite are the curiosities of suicide! Here is a would-be felo-de-se in Cincinnati, one Philip Lotz, who determined to so absolutely blow off his head that the affair, when the Coroner came to investigate, should be considered one of the most astonishing of the century. Wherefore he placed a pound of powder in a tin box, the said box on the floor, his head on the said box, and then he let off the arrangement, by means of a fuse. Immense explosion! In rushed the mother of Philip, and finding the head entirely uninjured, and the furniture considerably damaged, gave her child a round scolding for not using the regular pistol. This is another instance of that love of display, that desire of creating a sensation which characterizes many suicides. The deed must be done in a way to excite the wonder and admiration of the neighborhood—a last deperate effort to secure the applause of mankind. This would point to the moral method of making suicide less frequent by making it absurd.

There is a family of nine brothers and sisters in Maine whose circle has never been entered by death. The youngest is now sixty three and the oldest seventy-nine, and their united age is 661 years. They have eighty children, 114 grandchildren and fifteen great grandchildren. The Showhegan Reporter is responsible for all these statements.

POSTOFFICE DEPARTMENT,
WASHINGTON, April 30, 1870.

PROPOSALS WILL BE RECEIVED AT THE CONTRACT Office of this Department until 3 o'clock P. M. of Wednesday, June 8, 1870, (to be decided by the 30th), for carrying the mails of the United States from July 1, 1870, or as soon thereafter as practicable, to June 30, 1872, on the following route in the Territory of

WASHINGTON,

And by the schedule of departures and arrivals herein specified, viz

15421 From Port Townsend, by San Juan, Port Tongas, and Fort Wrangle, to Sitka, Alaska Territory, 900 miles and back, once a month, in suitable and safe steamboats.

Leave Port Townsend on the 1st of every month;
Arrive at Sitka on the 10th of the same month;
Leave Sitka on the 15th of every month;
Arrive at Port Townsend on the 22d of the same month.

Proposals to begin service at Portland, Oregon, instead of Port Townsend, 300 miles farther, invited. Also, for service twice a month.

Instructions,

Containing conditions to be incorporated in the contract to the extent the Department may deem proper:

The Special Agents of the Postoffice Department, on exhibition of their credentials, also Postoffice blanks, mail bags, locks and keys, are to be conveyed without charge.

The route agents of he Department, should it appoint them, to be conveyed without charge, and for their exclusive use while traveling with the mails, a commodious apartment is to be provided by the contractor, under the direction of the department.

No pay will be made for trips not performed; and for each of such omissions, not satisfactorily explained, three times the pay of the trip may be deducted. For arrivals so far behind time as to break connection with depending mails, and not satisfactorily excused, one-fourth of the compensation for the trip is subject to forfeiture. Deduction will also be ordered for a grade of performance inferior to that specified in the contract. For repeated delinquencies of the kind, enlarged penalties, proportioned to the nature thereof and importance of the mail may be made.

Fines will be imposed, unless the delinquency be promptly and satisfactorily explained by certificates of postmasters or the affidavits of other credible persons, for failing to arrive on contract time; for neglecting to take the mail from or deliver it into a postoffice; for suffering it to be wet, injured, destroyed, robbed or lost; and for refusing, after demand, to convey the mail as frequently as the contractor runs, or is concerned in running, a conveyance on the route.

The Postmaster General may annul the contract for repeated failures to run agreeably to contract, for violating the postoffice laws, or disobeying the instructions of the department.

The Postmaster General may order an increase of the service by allowing therefor a pro rata increase in the contract pay. He may change the schedule of departures and arrivals, provided that by so doing the running time be not abridged.

Each bid must be guaranteed by two responsible persons, certified to be such by a postmaster or a judge of a court of record. The department reserves the right to reject any bid which may be deemed extravagant, and also to disregard the bids of failing contractors and bidders.

For forms of proposal, guarantee and certificate, and also for other instructions as to the conditions to be embraced in the contract, &c. see advertisement of September 30, 1869, inviting proposals for mail service in California and Oregon and Washington, to be found at the principal postoffices.

Bids should be sent in sealed envelopes, superscribed, "Mail Proposals, Route No. 15421, Washington Territory," and addressed to the Second Assistant Postmaster General.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of scorbutic standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this deplorable situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies—see that they are cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of these charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combated by scientific medical measures: viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushed, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequently insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of affecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of his complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who, with bogus sworn-to certificates, dupe the unwary. Some of the self-styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen, and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory, and you will not find their Medical Institutes in it; but you will find their former occupations in it. Look at the Directory for 1862 and 1863. The only way to avoid imposition is to make enquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets; for, as advertising physicians, in eight cases out of ten, are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, protended patient's letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 623 Kearney street, corner Commercial, (Private Entrance on Commercial) San Francisco. Post Office Box 252.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 252 ON THE LETTER.

Consultations FREE.

Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the Daily Oregonian.
